Luther strengthens restructuring and insolvency practice at Hamburg office

With Frank Tschentscher, LL.M. (NTU), attorney-at-law and solicitor (England & Wales), Luther Lawfirm is expanding its restructuring and insolvency practice in Hamburg with effect from 1 August 2019. Tschentscher was previously a partner at Schultze & Braun, a law firm specializing in insolvency administration, and its head of the Hamburg branch for restructuring consulting.

Frank Tschentscher regularly represents international financial creditors and bank consortia in the pre-insolvency restructuring and reorganization of companies. He also acts as a debtor negotiator and has many years of experience in the field of structured insolvency. Tschentscher is the representative of the German members in INSOL Europe's Council of States, a regular speaker at national and international events and the author of numerous publications.

"We are very pleased to be able to expand our Restructuring and Insolvency practice with an internationally experienced partner. In Hamburg, Frank Tschentscher will meet the successful restructuring team led by Dr Marcus Backes, who set up this division for Luther in Hamburg and closely accompanied the change. Marcus Backes' expertise in the restructuring of hospitals and shipping companies as well as Frank Tschentscher's expertise in advising banks and in cross-border matters complement each other perfectly," says Dr Markus Sengpiel, Managing Partner of Luther.

In recent months, Luther has already strengthened its position at various locations by acquiring and appointing new partners. "We are pleased that Luther is attractive for highly specialised lawyers and that we make progress in the market with new entries," says Sengpiel.
