We offer the full spectrum of legal, corporate, accounting, payroll, immigration and tax services for clients operating in or from Asia. Our teams are led by partners with many years of experience in both Asia and Europe. This dual perspective enables us to provide immediate, accurate guidance on cross-border investments—whether you are entering Asia from Europe, or expanding from Asia into Europe.

From our principal office in Singapore as well as our regional offices in Bangkok, Delhi-Gurugram, Ho Chi Minh City, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur, Shanghai and Yangon, we provide cost-effective, practical advice to a wide range of businesses seeking reliable legal and professional support.

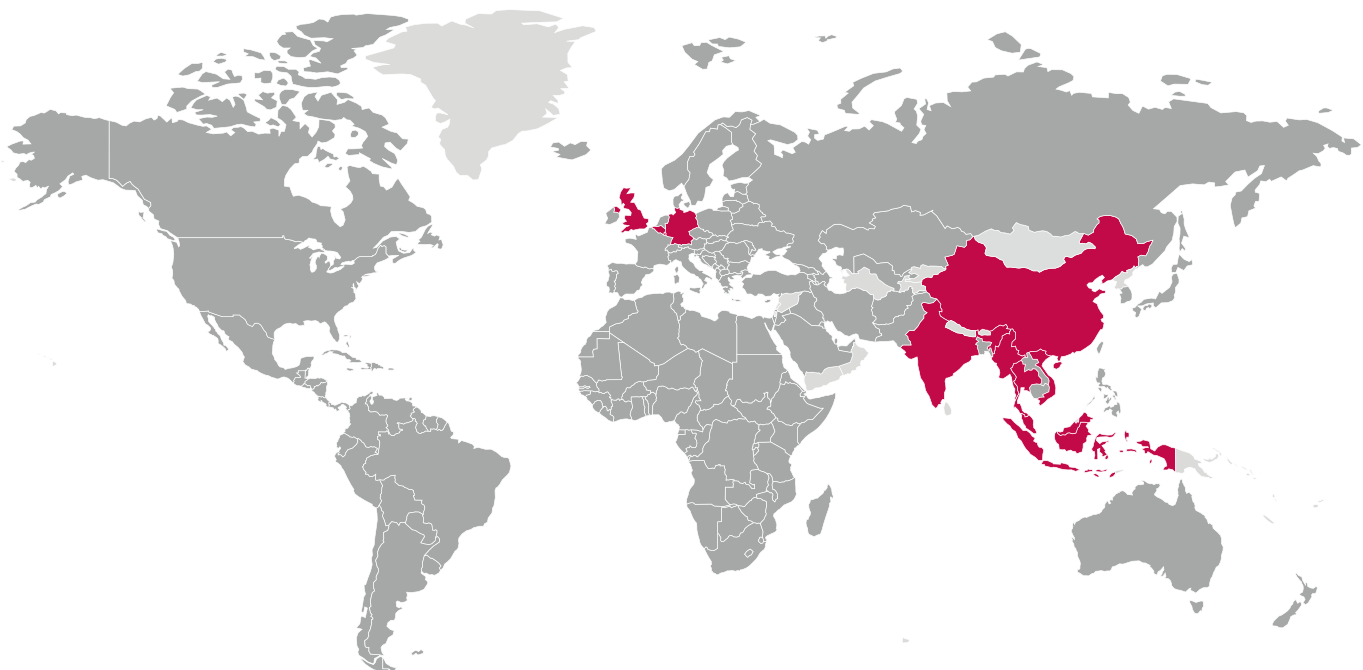

Our capabilities are further enhanced by the long-standing partnerships we have built across Asia, most notably with Singapore-based I.N.C Law LLC. Together with our regional offices and our “best friends” network in other countries, we have successfully handled numerous high-profile cross border matters to the full satisfaction of our clients.

Vietnam

Since the launch of the “Doi Moi” reforms in 1986, Vietnam has transformed into one of Asia’s most dynamic emerging economies. Nearly four decades later, the country continues to outperform regional peers, recording solid GDP growth, rising productivity, and a steadily expanding middle class that is projected to reach nearly 40 million people by 2030.

Vietnam in 2025 represents a compelling investment destination: it offers a young, ambitious, and increasingly skilled workforce; an open and reform-driven business environment; and competitive costs that continue to attract multinational investors seeking diversification and resilience in their global value chains.

The government’s commitment to digital transformation, renewable energy, infrastructure development, and high-value manufacturing underscores its ambition to transition from a cost-driven to an innovation-driven economy. Strategic industries such as semiconductors, electronics, green energy, logistics, financial services, healthcare, agriculture, and tourism are opening new opportunities for foreign investors under favorable FDI policies and a growing network of free trade agreements.

Vietnam has proven itself as a resilient and agile economy: after maintaining stability during global disruptions, it has returned to strong annual growth above 6%, positioning itself among the top performers in ASEAN. Its central location within Southeast Asia - bordering China and connected to major global shipping routes - further enhances its role as a strategic hub for trade and investment.

Our team in Vietnam consists of international legal professionals and fully qualified Vietnamese lawyers, corporate secretaries, accountants, and tax advisors. Paired with our international network across Asia and worldwide, we are well positioned to support clients in navigating this promising market, safeguarding their investments, and leveraging Vietnam’s strong growth trajectory to their advantage.

Vietnam in 2025 is no longer just an emerging market - it is a rising strategic economy where forward-looking investors can establish lasting partnerships, access a rapidly growing consumer base, and position themselves at the center of Asia’s future growth
