Project & structured finance expert Alexander M. Wojtek strengthens Luther's Hamburg office

Hamburg – As of 1 December 2017, Alexander M. Wojtek, LL. M. (Duke) (41), has joined the Banking & Capital Markets team of Luther. Previously, he worked in the Hamburg office of Watson Farley & Williams in the Banking & Capital Markets Group.

Alexander M. Wojtek specialises in project finance and structured finance transactions. He advises on national and international project and acquisition finance transactions, with a particular focus on the financing of offshore and onshore wind farms, solar parks and infrastructure projects. At Luther's Hamburg and Frankfurt offices, he will also contribute his experience in the restructuring of complex structured finance operations and in national and cross-border securitisation transactions. His clients include banks, financial institutions, PE funds and borrowers as well as sponsors and developers in the field of renewable energies.

“Luther offers me an excellent environment to further grow my practice in debt finance transactions, in particular in project finance. I am very pleased to be a part of the team,” said Alexander M. Wojtek on the move.

Dr. Jörgen Tielmann, Head of Banking & Capital Markets at Luther: “We are delighted to have won an experienced colleague to further expand our expertise in project finance. This enables us to create considerable added value for our clients, especially in combination with the expertise of our energy law team.”

About the person

Alexander M. Wojtek was admitted to the bar in 2008 and joined Clifford Chance where he worked in structured finance, advising on securitisation transactions and the restructuring of complex structured finance transactions.
