Israeli Desk

Israeli Desk

Our Israeli Desk advises Israeli companies and investors when doing business in Germany, as well as German companies and investors when carrying out projects in Israel.

Our advisory services in detail:

- Advising on the formation of companies, private equity, M&A, joint ventures, and real estate transactions
- Legal due diligence reviews, tax structuring and advice in connection with transactions, project financing
- Cooperation agreements, commercial agency agreements, leases
- Employment law advice, especially in connection with mergers and acquisitions and the formation of subsidiaries
- Advising on the protection of intellectual property, on competition and copyright law issues, on how to apply for trademarks, utility models and design patents, and in connection with the purchase, sale and defence of intellectual property rights

Our Foreign Offices and International Desks

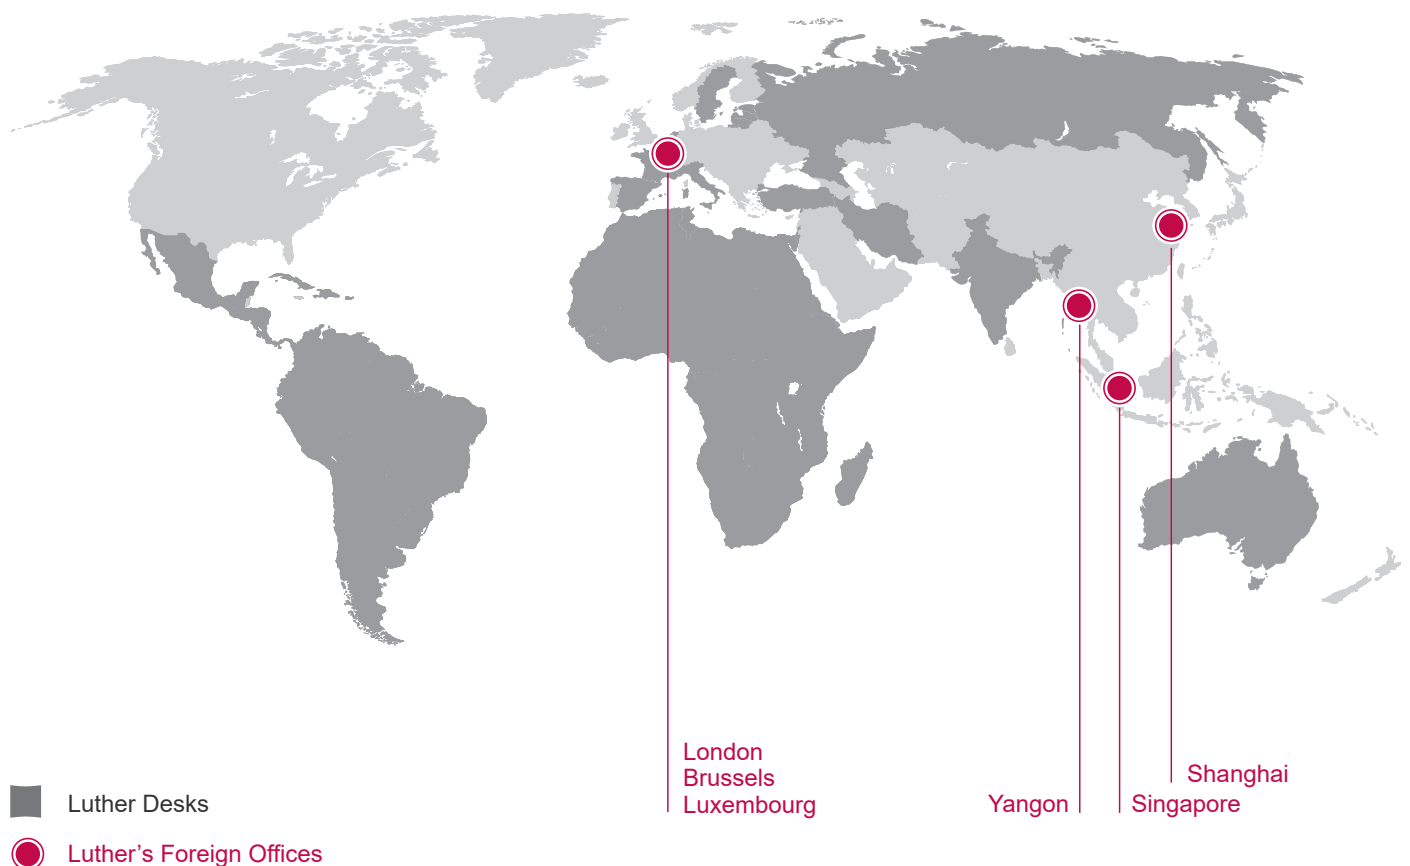

With the assistance of six foreign Luther offices, we provide cross-border advice and handle international projects in the most important European and Asian markets.

However, we also assist local clients in many other important industrialized countries and central international markets in all matters pertaining to German law, and we advise German investors who wish to do business in such countries.

For this purpose, Luther has a series of International Desks where professional expertise is combined with language skills and knowledge of the culture and the political and economic situation in the respective country.

Overview of our International Desks:

- Australian Desk
- Baltic Desk
- Brazilian Desk
- Dutch Desk
- French Desk
- Iranian Desk
- Israeli Desk
- Italian Desk
- Latin American Desk

Zvi Tirosh was born in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1966. He lived in Israel from 1974 to 1989. He studied law in Mannheim, Germany and successfully completed his second state bar exam in Heidelberg, Germany. After being a trainee at the Higher Regional Court, Karlsruhe, Germany, he was admitted to the German Bar in 1997 and has since provided legal advice to national and international companies. From 1999 to 2001, he was the head of the German office of the German-Israeli Chamber of Industry and Commerce. Zvi Tirosh is court chairman and CFO of the management board of the German-Israeli Lawyers' QAssociation.

Zvi Tirosh is head of Luther's Israeli Desk.

Areas of Practice

Zvi Tirosh advises national and international companies on all commercial matters, in particular, on real estate matters. In addition to providing ongoing advice, the focus of his work is on real estate and construction law, in particular, on structuring M&A transactions in the real estate sector (share or asset deals), including carrying out due diligence reviews, drafting sales contracts and leases and providing project financing advice. He also provides ongoing advice after the acquisition of a property.
